  Upon the field of battle.
  That he had non-enough, be know.
  To make his cannon rathle.
  And with a cabinet like his

Marshall, Saline County, May 3d, 1867 — We hereby certify that we have witnessed the Gang Plow of Jones & Mason at work on the farin of William Allen, and can confidently say that they do better work than any plow we have ever seen. When we saw it at work, it was in a ceratified that had been pastured all winter—the stalks standing. It plowed them all under, from ten to twelve inches deep, and no stalks were to be seen after the plow. A wheat-drill was run after tee plow without raising any stalks.
